The University of Iowa
College of Nursing
Inspiring Excellence, Exceeding Expectations
Respect: Accepting and empowering individuals and perspectives regardless of differences with mutual civility, decency, dignity, and accountability for our attitudes, behaviors, and words.

Integrity: Consistency in ethical thought and conduct according to the College, UI, and Nursing profession’s values/standards, characterized by transparency, honesty, reliability, humility and stewardship.

Caring: Relating to and assisting others anchored by knowing, understanding and embracing another's reality, conveyed through actions that enhance valuing others in a way that fully benefits each individual’s unique qualities and abilities.

Learning: the knowledge and/or skills of cultural understanding continuously acquired and integrated into the study and practice of nursing.

Awareness: A continuous process of perceiving how diversity is defined at the CON, as well as a growing mindfulness of how we as individuals evolve in our understanding of identities different from our own.

Collaboration: working together across disciplines, rank, and backgrounds, seeking to understand and value differences as assets to attain a common goal.

Cultural Humility: an understanding of internalized assumptions, beliefs, and privileges that require a life-long commitment to self-awareness, reflection, and critique in order to embrace the intersections of multidimensional identities.
The Seven Pillars Reinforce Synergy For CON Growth

Build a more inclusive and collegial community to support and sustain a diverse environment

Model to nursing students the value of integrating cultural competence, diversity, and inclusiveness into our profession and lives

Establish mutually beneficial relationships and partnerships with reciprocal accountability

Grow with the fulfillment and strengthening of our vision and mission as a College
