TENTH INSTITUTE ON NURSING INFORMATICS & CLASSIFICATION

THURSDAY - FRIDAY
JUNE 13-14, 2013
STATEMENT OF PURPOSE
The Institute emphasizes in-depth, current information on the American Nurses Association recognized classifications of Nursing Interventions Classification, Nursing Outcomes Classification, and NANDA International. The conference highlights the use of standardized languages in clinical and educational settings. There will be opportunities throughout this 2-day conference to interact with the developers and users from various settings.

TARGET AUDIENCE
The Institute on Nursing Informatics and Classification is intended for all nurses interested in designing, implementing, and evaluating nursing information systems and those who wish to know more about standardized nursing languages. The Institute will benefit individuals new to NIC and NOC as well as those who have used standardized language in practice or educational settings.

OBJECTIVES
Participants in the Institute for Nursing Informatics and Classification 2013 will be able to:
• Discuss how NANDA, NIC, and NOC are used in an electronic health records from a variety of settings
• Identify advantages and strategies to meet the challenges related to use of classifications in practice and education
• Discuss historical and current trends in informatics and electronic health records
• Discuss national and international use of NANDA, NIC, and NOC
• Dialogue with developers and users of NIC and NOC
