The University of Iowa (UI) College of Nursing is seeking qualified Acute Care Pediatric Nurse Practitioner (PNP-AC) applicants for a Clinical Track (Non-Tenure) Nine-Month Faculty position as the PNP-AC Graduate Practice Program Director in the Doctor of Nursing (DNP) Program.

The PNP-AC Graduate Practice Program Director is responsible for Acute Care Pediatric Nurse Practitioner practicum/clinical teaching, assisting in programmatic management of the graduate Acute Care Pediatric Nurse Practitioner Program including student recruitment, communication with students and perspective students, primary advisor for students within specialty, the cultivation of practice sites for student practicum placement, and recruitment of qualified and experienced preceptors. The applicant will need a foundation in practice, teaching and scholarship.

The college has a long-standing tradition of producing nursing leaders for practice, education and research. As a leader in nursing education, research and practice innovations, the UI College of Nursing has received national recognition by U.S. News & World Report, ranking nine of its graduate programs among the best in the nation (in comparison to all public and private schools).

As a community of nurse scholars, we believe that an expert faculty with varied areas of expertise is required to carry out the educational mission of the college. Faculty are committed to designing and implementing curricula in which students develop critical thinking, decision-making skills, clinical judgment, cultural sensitivity, and professional nursing values in an increasingly complex health care system.

The college is committed to promoting diversity and inclusion in achieving our education, research, service, and practice missions, as demonstrated through our Pillars of Diversity.
