Economically Disadvantaged

*Economically Disadvantaged is an individual who comes from a family with an annual income below a level based on low income thresholds according to family size published by the US Bureau of Census, adjusted annually for changes in the Consumer Price Index, and adjusted by the Secretary for use in all health professions programs. The Secretary annually publishes these income levels in the Federal Register. The Secretary defines a "low income family" for programs included in Titles III, VII, and VIII of the PHS Act as having an annual income that does not exceed 200% of the department's poverty guidelines. A family is a group of two or more individuals related by birth, marriage, or adoption who live together or an individual who is not living with any relatives."

Educationally

*Educationally disadvantaged is an individual who comes from an environment that has hindered the individual in obtaining the knowledge, skills, and abilities required to enroll in and graduate from a health professions school. The following are provided as examples of "Educationally Disadvantaged" for guidance only, and are not intended to be all-inclusive. Applicants should seek guidance from their educational institution as to how "Educationally Disadvantaged" is defined by their institution."

1. Person from a high school with low average SAT scores or below the average state test results.
2. Person from a school district where 50% or less of graduates go to college.
3. Person who has a diagnosed physical or mental impairment that substantially limits participation in educational experiences.
4. Person for who English is not their primary language and for whom language is still a barrier to their academic performance.
5. Person who is first generation to attend college and who is from a rural or urban area or receiving public assistance.
6. Person from a high school where at least 30% of enrolled students are eligible for free or reduced price lunches.
